SUPPORTING THE 2025 CHARITY HOME

Book & Mental Health Talk, Silent Auction/Raffle

Raising awareness and support for our youth, our families, and our community.

Thursday, January 23, 2025

5:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. | Speaker Presentations – 6:15 p.m.

Miller Marriott Charity Home – 545 Wisconsin Ave., Delafield

Mental illness affects the entire family system, educational success, workplace safety, absenteeism, and the long-term physical health of our communities. In 1979, two Wisconsin mothers wanting to support other parents of children living with mental illness started NAMI. It is in that same spirit that this event is taking place – supporting families, ending stigma, and educating the community through personal experiences.

Join local author Deb Mueller, accompanied by her daughter Mia, as she shares her book, Love Hard, and holds a Q&A about her personal story of raising a child with mental health struggles and experiences with mental health. NAMI will speak about the issues our youth and families are currently facing, available resources, and how we can make a difference.

There will be food and beverages from some favorite local spots, a silent auction & raffle. With your ticket purchase, you will receive their own personal copy of the book Love Hard.
